

Ski Cruisers Visitors Guide

The cabin is a three-story green and cream A-Frame with access at ground level. A combination lock on the door is for members only, however, knocking or using the door bell will get you in. Your sponsoring club member is required to be at the cabin when you are. If no one responds, go around and rouse someone's attention from the uphill side of the cabin. Once inside, there is storage space for skis and poles. Do not leave anything outside as thefts have occurred. In the storage area, you will also find a broom to remove snow from your person and equipment. This helps keep the cabin clean.

All Day Adult (16-69) Lift Tickets are available from the club for $54.00, there are also Youth (7-15) tickets that are $32.00, either can be obtained from a board member for cash or check.

Bathrooms with showers (bring your own towel), a baggage area, a ski boot changing area, and lounge area are located on the first floor. The men's and women's dorms are on the third floor. Ask your host the process for acquiring and designating a bunk. Sleeping bags should be set out before 9:00 P.M. as some members retire early and don't want their sleep disturbed. Dorms have bunks with mattresses but no bedding. A winter type sleeping bag is recommended as the sleeping dorms maintain a moderate to cool temperature for necessary air circulation. When the cabin is crowded, bunk priority goes to cabin members, but we always find a place for everyone to sleep. Oh, and please no food or beverages in the sleeping dorms. Electrical outlets in the dorms are for medical devices like CPAP machines only. Leave your cell phones in your bag or connect them to charge on the charging rack down stairs.

This experience at the cabin will be fun and memorable. This is an open communal living environment and there is no place to isolate a person and make them comfortable if they are ill. We sleep in two dorms without heat so feeling ill at the cabin is no fun. We recommend you consider coming up another time if you are sick. We would all love to have the company but not at the risk of sharing an illness.

No boots or gear bags are allowed above the first floor. There are ski boot racks in the downstairs hallway and bag storage in the back rooms. Again, check with your host for procedures.

Before your first day ends, be sure to pay your lodging fee of $16.00 (children 13 and under are $8.00). As this cabin is shared by many member-families, cooking facilities and chores are always shared with a cooperative spirit. Your host can explain the process for taking responsibility for a specific cabin chore (see sign-up list) and describe the manner of balancing cooking, eating, and cleaning with other members and guests. A basic rule-of-thumb is to be polite and always clean up after yourself. All necessary cooking and dining utensils are provided by the cabin as well as coffee and kitchen basics. It is strongly suggested that you store your cold food in an ice chest and be sure to mark all your belongings to avoid confusion with other cabin users.

On your departure day, all baggage and sleeping bags must be moved to the first floor. Check to see if on the day of your departure the cabin will be closed in total as this necessitates an early shut down of the kitchen and the bathrooms (usually by 1:00 p.m.). The Bremerton Ski Cruisers share in your celebration of the mountains and thank you for helping us maintain a clean, safe, usable environment.

Check List for Taking Guest to the Cabin

- ✓ Must Leave the cabin CLEAN!
- ✓ Clearly label gear
- ✓ Potluck for dinner? (Lunch/Breakfast?)
- ✓ Sleeping Bags (put in plastic bags)
- ✓ Change of clothes for cabin (put in plastic bags)
- ✓ NO food or drinking in the dorms
- ✓ Brush off snow in the ski room
- ✓ Bring a back-pack if possible
- ✓ Keep track of gear
- ✓ Lodging fee - $16.00 or $8.00/night
- ✓ NO ski boots upstairs
- ✓ Sign up for bunk
- ✓ Sign up for job
- ✓ Stay home if your sick